

Avas Flowers - 25 Funny Complaints - How Can a Company be this Bad? Great Experience Had!!!!

They don't offer delivery of pot plants to residents of Colorado. Why not, it is legal.

A marijuana plant is a perfect gift for Christmas and if planted it is a gift that will keep on giving. A few joints will put anyone in the Christmas spirit. I think you are missing out on a large market you could even make it festive. Put a red bow on the plant and stick in a few candy canes.

Or better yet put as the centerpiece on gift baskets full of snacks. People get the munchies when they smoke a joint, I certainly do.

cee7614 review #567999

...Me: Why don't you sell pot plants online?"

...Avas:

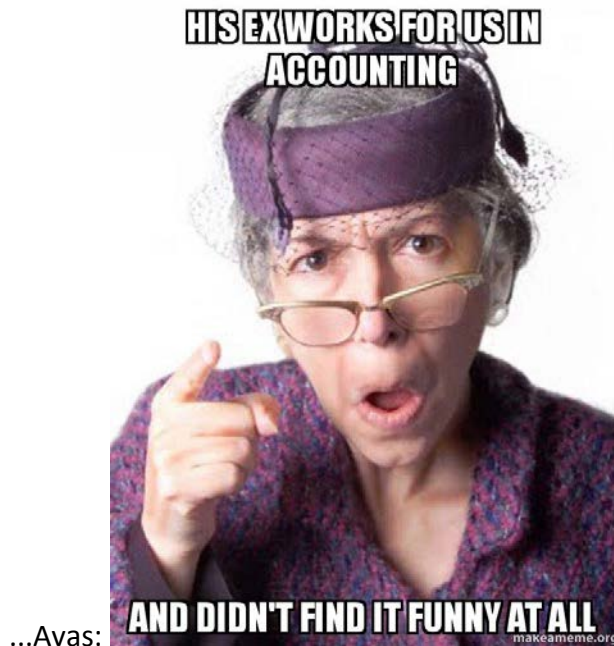

I wanted to send dead or moldy flowers to my ex for our non-anniversary. I was willing to pay the regular price for flowers and I figured it would be a win-win for them.

They would get my money and get rid of flowers that they would normally throw out. But No, they get all high and moral and say that they do not operate that way. They are committed to sending the best flowers they can all the time.

I said they could put it in a plain box and no one would ever know where it came from. But no, damm I so wanted to  off my ex.

cee7fa2 review #567167

...Me: Really? why couldn't you send dead flowers to this guys ex? How heartless of you!
(Couldn't say that one without laughing)

I ordered Christmas flowers for a family member. I asked if they could deliver it in a sleigh to make it more festive.

They said they did not have a sleigh and I think they were a little amused at the request. I was not as if I was asking for delivery by a sleigh pulled by reindeer, horses would have been fine. I am pissed that they dismissed my wishes out of hand.

I don't think having flowers delivered to Arizona by a sled to be that outlandish I would even have paid an extra delivery fee. No Christmas spirit.

cee817d review #567087

...Me: Really? No sleigh around Christmas time??

I buy everything from Sears and pay for everything with my Sears card and they always accept it as payment. I tried to order something from Avas and I was shocked they don't accept a Sears card.

I mean Sears is a nationwide company known everywhere. They said they only accept major credit cards - Sears is a major company they are all over the place. I am really disappointed with this company for not accepting my Sears credit card.

I bet they don't even take a Macy's card. They are losing out on a lot of customers I think.

cee2bb3 review #566408

...Me: What about Macy's or expired soup coupons..do you honor those?

...Avas: No, but old raffle tickets from library fund raisers we do accept. But they have to be old, you can't just go out and buy new ones.

This company refused to send me free flowers for my birthday. I don't understand this.

The coffee shop gives me free coffee and can have a free meal at the local restaurant. I get a lot of freebies on my birthday and they can't even send me a small bouquet, they won't even offer a discount. I thought it would be nice to have flowers for my birthday as I have never been given them as a birthday present.

It thought it would brighten my mood as I recently totaled my BMW and my new one isn't ready yet. But this company ruined my birthday.

...Me: Why no free flowers on someone's birthday?

They dye roses to make rainbow roses and to make colored orchids why can't they make plaid flowers. I absolutely adore plaid.

I have plaid coats, shirts, hats, rugs, furniture and bed coverings. Why can't I have plaid flowers. I think they would be a big hit with the millions of plaid lovers out there. I take this as discrimination against people who like plaid.

Discrimination in any form is bad. I happen to think that plaid roses or orchids would make a stunning statement and that you are missing out on a large customer base who would flock to purchase plaid flowers.

...Me: Seems like a reasonable request to me. Can't your team of scientists get on this asap??

...Avas:

I called customer service and asked if I could return the flowers that were sent me and receive a portion of the purchase price as a check to me. I explained that there was nothing wrong with flowers and I did not want the sender contacted.

I told them I was in financial difficulty and really needed money not flowers. They would not send me money even when I told them that I would accept 50% of the money paid.

They told me they could not refund money to the recipient. What a croc now I will have to try and sell them to my neighbors.

cee4532 review #564190

...Me: you hate poor people don't you?

...Avas: Of course not, our flowers can help them stay warm if lined within their clothing properly.

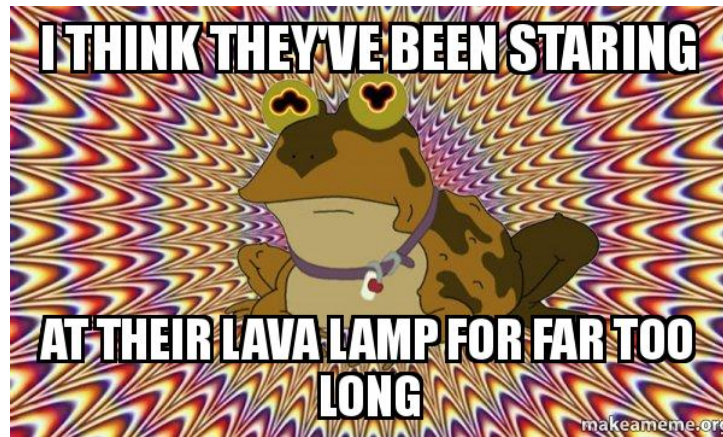

I received a bouquet of flowers about a week ago. What happened during the time that followed I am not quite so sure.

I seem to be confused about what happened after I received the flowers. I have been fired from my job because supposedly I told my boss he made Stalin look like a boy scout. I asked my 76 year old land lady to marry me and I bought a pot-bellied pig as a pet. I wonder what else I did that I just do not remember.

I need to have another joint to calm down and figure out what happened. Did the flowers have something to do with this.

cee4957 review #560538

...Me: You don't sell pot plants, but psychedelic plants???

...Avas:

I know to most people the flowers attracting a bee would be nothing more than an inconvenience. But I suffer from extreme melissophobia (the fear of bees) and this was no laughing matter.

I had to locked myself in the bathroom for a few hours until my husband got home. It is not fun hiding in a bathroom trembling in fear for hours. They should treat their flowers with something that repels insects.

I am extremely disappointed that Avas does not do this simple step. Now I do not know if I will ever allow flowers in my home ever again.

cee85cb review #558498

...Me: Shouldn't you offer a warning to people not to have windows open so this doesn't happen?

...Avas:

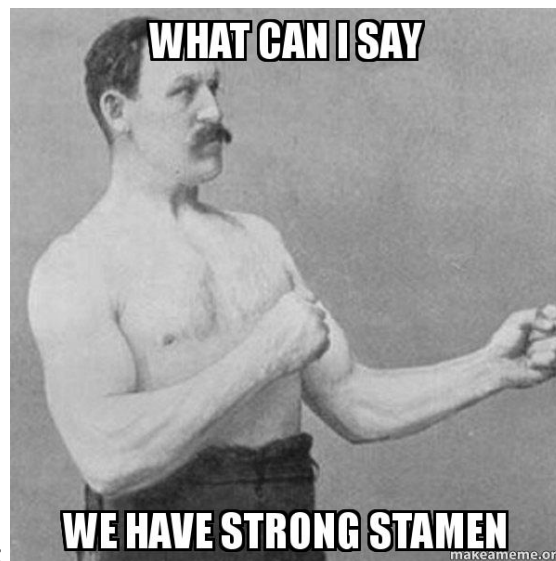

My boyfriend sent me a beautiful bouquet of flowers a few months back. Because of this I was feeling especially affectionate towards him.

Well that night we got a little exciting a one thing led to another and we did the deed (you know what I mean). Because I was in an excited state because of the beautiful flowers we neglected to use protection. A few weeks later I missed my period and I found out I was pregnant. It is all because of those dammed flowers.

Now what am I going to do or more importantly what are they gonna do about it. It is their fault.

cee6fe8 review #558166

...Me: Do you feel at all bad for what you've done to this seemingly sweet girl. Her life is ruined! Perhaps you should offer forms of protection so this doesn't happen.

...Avas:

I recently received a flower arrangement as a thank you at my work. When the weekend came I decided to take my gift home to enjoy.

I placed them on floor of the passenger seat and proceeded on my daily drive home. The flowers were so pretty and their scent so intoxicating that I was continually being distracted. Eventually I was so distracted by these flowers that I rear ended a car in front of me that suddenly slowed down. You should tone down the arrangements so this can't happen.

Now I have to pay the deductible and go through the inconvenience of not having a car while mine is fixed.

Not to mention my insurance rates are sure to go up. Thanks alot.

cee87fd review #557408

...Me: Do you offer accident protection with flower purchases?

...Avas: You mean like bubble wrap?

After being beautiful for two weeks the flowers became messy and started turning brown and leaves and petals started falling off onto the end table and floor.

Now I have to spend precious time cleaning up and picking up the dead flowers and putting in the trash.

Now I waste more money because I have less room in trash bag not to mention the electric cost and wear and tear on my vacuum.

I think that in addition to delivering the flowers this company should pickup the dead ones and clean up the mess. The sender pays good money for the flowers and should have full service.

cee8b7a review #557006

I did not know that fresh cut flowers will die. They do not tell you this!!!.

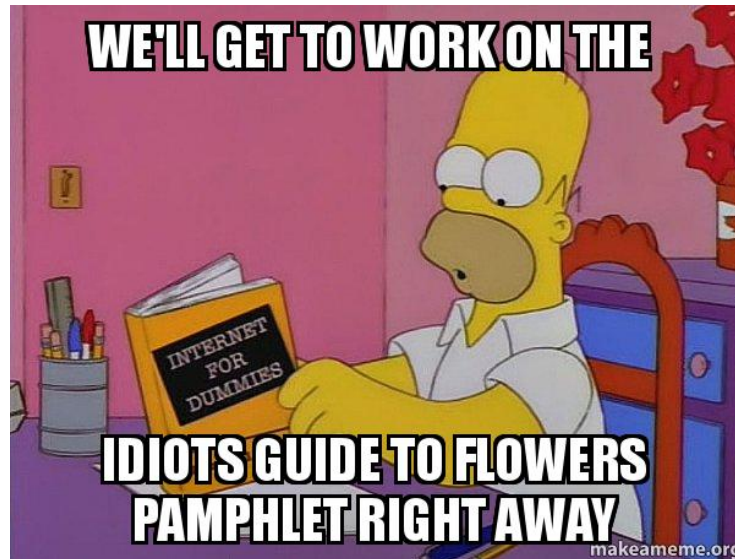

I purchased flowers and they were beautiful for over a week. Then they started to turn brown and wilt. I called customer service and they did not do anything. I mean this is  who would sell and more importantly who would buy something that only lasts for ten days.

They should be required to say in large letters on their site that their product will perish.

I thought I would have something that would last for a long time. Guess I was way wrong.

cee8ded review #555821

...Me: Here are 2 people you didn't tell about your flowers dying off...I think you should really educate your consumers about such things.

...Avas:

I sitting in my living room watching TV with the flowers on the coffee table. When all of the sudden the TV went fuzzy, the lights dimmed and it felt like the house was shaking.

A bright light then descended from the ceiling centered on the flowers. The light was so bright I could barely look at it. Suddenly there was a bright flash and my flowers were gone. Everything then returned to normal in the room.

I took another shot of whiskey to calm my nerves as I was quite startled by what had happened.

I have never had an experience like this. Beware aliens might want your flowers.

cee8ff3 review #556555

...Me: Can't you sell flowers that won't attract Aliens?

...Avas:

It seems this company has no telepaths.I placed an order telepathically to this company.

I transmitted everything, the item, the delivery date, shipping and billing and address and my complete credit card information. I waited the whole day I specified as the delivery day and no flowers arrived. I am an accomplished telepath and I know I set the correct information. I called customer service and they said they had no record of my order at all.

They must have no telepaths or their building is somehow shield.I post this as a warning to my fellow telepaths, this place cannot handle your orders.

cee9d31 review #553502

...Me: Did your telepaths receive my question in regards to this complaint?

...Avas: Did you receive the answer I just thought to you?

I recently purchased flowers from one of the large internet flower companies.What a got was a small bouquet of the wrong flowers.

Not remembering who I bought them from I called Avas who I found on the internet. They would not honor the satisfaction guaranty from another company. This is a joke, everybody knows that are all just one big mega cooperation all owned by the same place and should be able to take care of my problem.

No they say they only deal with customers that actually purchase from them, what a croc.I think this is a very short sighted policy.

ceea5a6 review #543529

...Me: You don't take credit cards from other businesses and now this???

...Avas: Perhaps had they contacted our telepaths, we could have helped them out.

I am deeply upset that the flowers I purchased from this company did not get my girlfriend back into my life.I had purchased flowers from other companies in the past and they always got me but into my girlfriends good graces.

I tried this company for a change and my girlfriend would not even speak to me. My only conclusion was that the flowers must have been defective, they always worked before.

I tried to get my money back from the company because the flowers did not work.I feel I have been mistreated by this company, not only am I out the money I spent, I was dumped by my girlfriend.

ceea910 review #537571

...Me: Why didn't you get this guy's girlfriend to take him back?

I recently purchased some stargazing lilies.I want to let the public now something.

These flowers don't gaze at the stars. I took the flowers out at night on numerous occasion as they did not gaze at the starts they did not move at all. At one point I was excited because I thought they were moving but finally realized it was just a breeze. I think these flowers have a misleading name and it is false advertising.

I mean why call them stargazers when they obviously do not gaze at stars.So buyers beware they do not gaze at the stars.

ceeb071 review #553503

...Me: You should really tell people that flowers don't make good dates. Not everyone will know that.

...Avas: Well you can't take flowers stargazing without dinner first. What a cheapskate.

I recently purchased a bouquet of red roses for my lover and during the ordering process I entered my home phone number.Their customer service called my number and my wife answered (not the recipient of the flowers) about some problem with order.

Needless to say when I got home from work I walked into a maelstrom. My wife was screaming at me and going crazy. Now I am living in a motel and my wife is threatening divorce. All because this company could not deliver a bunch of  roses.

They ruined a perfect little arrangement I had.Now Im pissed off and so is my wife.

cee53d2 review #560632

...Me: So what do you have to say about this? Does Avas hate the institution of marriage?

...Avas:

My parrot wont stop saying "pretty flowers".He says it over and over again for hours and hours.

I received a bouquet as a gift and when I placed them on my coffee table I said "What pretty flowers" and then is when all the trouble started. Imagine trying to live with bird that keeps saying "Pretty Flowers" over and over again It is maddening.

I blame Avas for sending such a beautiful flowers that it got me into this situation.I am at my wits end and wondering what they are going to do about a situation that would not have happened without their damm flowers.

ceeb6d5 review #552320

...Me: Why are you flowers so beautiful???

...Avas:

My dog ran away because of this company that is the only explanation that makes sense. I miss my beautiful one year old spaniel.

I received a potted plant from my daughter from Avas, the plant appear beautiful however the dog kept barking at it. I did not think anything of it at the time but I realize now it must of be significant. I opened the front door to let in some fresh air. To my horror a couple of hours later I could not find my dog.

I looked everywhere, no dog.

The only thing that changed was that dammed plant. What is this company going to do about my missing dog.

ceebbe4 review #551968

...Me: How come you didn't help search for this person's lost dog? You could have at least put up fliers!

...Avas:

I sent a Beer Mug of Blooms to a friend. I assumed that they would send at least a bottle of beer so the mug could be used after the flowers died.

I mean what is the use of a beer mug without beer. They should plainly state that no beer is included. This is false advertising. They promise you one thing and give you another.

I want my beer I am extremely upset with this company.

What guy would want a beer mug filled with some shiny rocks and a few flowers without some actual beer. I am pissed off.

ceec532 review #549961

...Me: No Beer!! I can't believe it. What do you have to say about this one?

...Avas:

I like the greenery that comes with a floral arrangement. I received an arrangement that had too many flowers and this was disappointing.

The greenery is what is beautiful the flowers just distract. I realize some people might think I am a bit off, flowers are what they are paying for. I think, however, that if there was more greenery and less flowers people would come to appreciate the filler more. I think the filler material is greatly neglected by this company.

More greens and less flowers are what are needed in these arrangements. Disappointed in receiving too many beautiful flowers.

ceecae0 review #548419

and...

I sent a flower arrangement to a friend of mine. I saw it the other day and I was shocked to see that it was full of beautiful flowers and some greens.

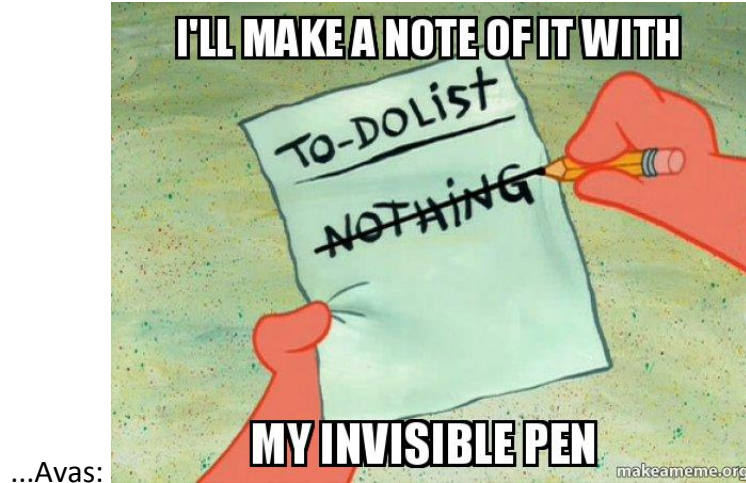

I was disappointed that it did not have more filler and less flowers. I could take or leave the flowers for me it is the filler that makes the arrangement. I absolutely love the lush green color. I wish they would offer an arrangement of just filler.

I would definitely buy that for myself.

This company puts too many flowers in their arrangement and not enough filler. Disappointed.

ceed25e review #565926

...Me: Shouldn't you know by now, people don't like flowers in their flower arrangement..its happened twice already!

...Avas:

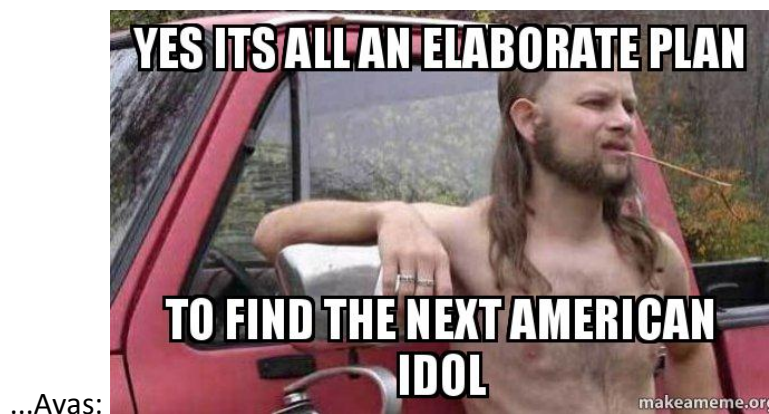

The sunflowers I received keep staring at me.No matter where I am in the room if I look at the sunflowers they are looking straight back at me.

This is seriously starting to creep me out, I feel like I am under surveillance. Has the government created realistic fake flowers with cameras that they use to check in on people. They already monitor our phones and keep track of us in so many ways.

Wake up America the government is spying of us and now they are using flowers.I need to find out how to make this latest conspiracy known.

ceee359 review #565397

...Me: So what about it, are you and the government plotting to spy on the American public!!

...Avas:

The flowers I received eventually died 10 days later after I got them as expected. They still smelt very good however so I decided to burn them, I guess sorta like incense so I threw them in the fireplace where a fire was lit.

The smell that erupted was nothing like the original fragrance of the flowers. They should list a warning on their flower care instructions not to burn them. I had an awful time getting rid of the smell in my home.

Who knew burning flowers could cause such a smell. Posted this to warn others don't burn the flowers.

ceee78c review #565149

...Me: Why don't you list a warning about this?

...Avas: We do, its in the form of a scratch and sniff on the bottom of our vases.

I received such a beautiful arrangement that I have become obsessed. I purchased flowers all the time, I read articles on flowers watch flower video and while driving if I pass a place selling flowers I have to stop.

This is ruining my life, all I think about flowers to the detriment of my children, husband and work. I blame Avas for my current obsession it all started after I received their flowers.

I demand compensation for treatment to rid me of my disorder. Even now I am feeling an irresistible urge to do get more flowers and am having a hard time finishing this complaint -

ceee70 review #557029

...Me: 2 part question. Did you pay for their treatment and are you currently trying to prevent this sort of obsession from happening again?
