

After I filled the short finance form out this is the email i got from the salesman. What they do with their web site is go fishing and what they catch and don't like they throw away. They have false advertising. They have a website that said second chance financing. They work with any credit. Well not if your a senior. I have cried and cried until I can't cry anymore. I would not of even filled out anything on their website if they had of been honest. They lure you in and if you do not fit their criteria after they have lied. They build your hope up just to let you down. Here is what I got after filling out a short finance form. I am not the only one there are hundreds of complaints against this dealership being dishonest. Below is what I received from this salesman and I also I have a message from another sales lady asking when I can come in I have been pre approved.
