

Hi Gird,

I understand the confusion you're experiencing, and I'd like to clarify things. We are Amazon Publishing Prime, not Printing Prime, and Basecamp is not part of Amazon. It's a platform we use to manage our projects, where we can share messages and files.

I hope this clears up any confusion about the company you're working with and the communication tools we use.

If Basecamp doesn't work for you, we can switch to managing the project through email instead. Please let me know your preference.

Best regards,
